This Month's Program – Les Hastings
 Les will be giving us a demonstration of his Legacy machine. He will make us a barley twist and other complex router operations.
 At last month's meeting we discussed building another guild membership project. The content, type of project, and member participation in the project will be discussed at this month's meeting. If you have any preferences of what will be built bring along a sketch, picture or magazine article to influence the outcome of the selection process.

President's Corner – Gary Vreeland hat a month of surprises. As the new appointed president I first would like to thank Galen for the outstanding job he has done for the Guild, both as president and as a member who has worked hard to make the Guild better. We look forward to seeing him back to active status very soon. Several of the board members had set some goals to accomplish and wanted to continue with them and that is why a new president was appointed, rather than moving up the office rotation.

As for goals of the Sunflower Woodworker Guild, they are the same, share knowledge and increase membership. Bring a friend to a meeting, the programs given each month are high quality and very informative to all woodworkers. This is your organization and we need your input as to what the Guild should be, not just what the board of directors think you want. Let's not settle for the 80/20 average that many groups have.

Show & Tell is one of my favorite parts of the meeting. Bring something and share it with us.

Gary Vreeland

From the Treasurer – Wendell Parks

We have a new member, his name is Phil Heinz. Everyone be friendly to him at the next meeting.

May Guild Meeting Minutes - Mike Hutton

Editor's Note:
 Mike was in short supply this month, he's working 7x12 at Spirit (used to be Boeing). I talked to him Monday morning while he was sitting on the ramp at Municipal Airport trying to get out between unpredicted thunderstorms. Something about “when it rains – it pours” comes to mind. Ray

Show and Tell-

Phil Bump brought in one of the 25 cars he built for the Toy Program. Good Job Phil – If you ever make a full size version I want one.

This is a detail showing the deep tread that Phil put on those wide Yokohama tires.

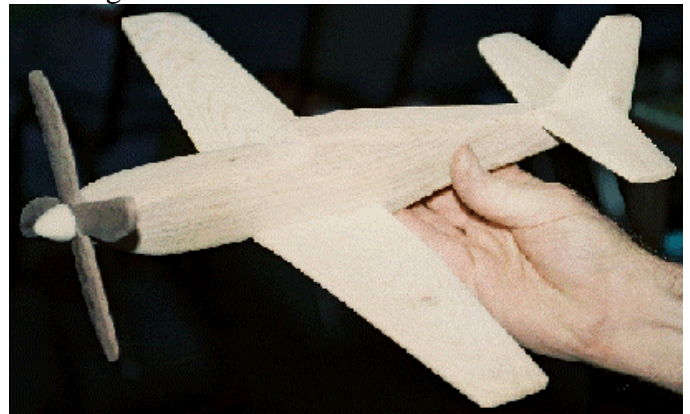

Randy Croley is selling these portable vises. I bought one and have been very pleased with it.

Bill Degarmo built this wine bottle holder. Nice wood selection and quality construction.

Lou Ortega said he found the plans for this P-51 Mustang on the web.

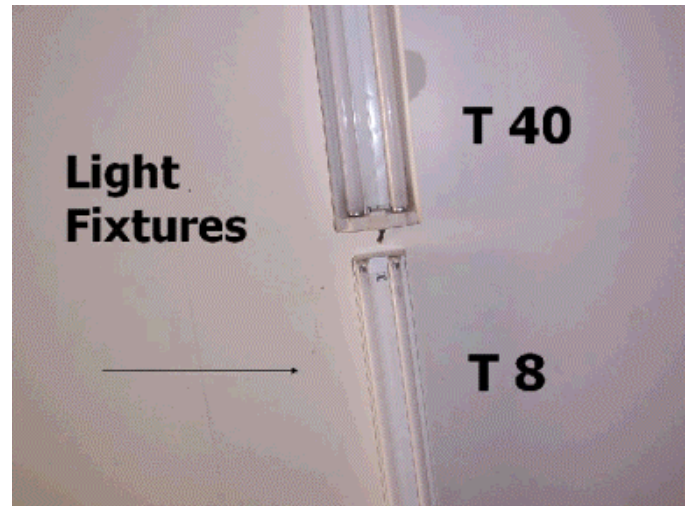

Last Month's Program-

Last month's meeting was a visual tour of five members shops. They discussed the things that they did right, the things they did wrong, and the things they wish they had done better. If you weren't there you missed one of the most interesting and informative meetings we have had. I wish I had a full video recording of it but there is not enough room in this newsletter to transfer the information gain. So – a few pictures will have to do.

From the Editor – Ray Smith

We received a note from Mikeal Jones expressing his enjoyment of our Guild meetings. We hope he can make this month's meeting:

Hi, I wanted to let everyone in our Wichita Guild know that I have really enjoyed the last 10 years of meetings that I have attended, with all the demonstrations, tours, show and tells, and special classes. June will be my last Month in Wichita, I will be moving to KC, Missouri the 30th of this month to join my wife up there and start working for another company and to try and get my workshop setup and reorganized to work in a more efficient and smaller setting. I will miss Wichita after living here 35 years and will miss the Guild here alot. Good luck with the rest of the year and the many future years.

Sincerely,

Mikeal L. Jones...

Ray
